TEAM NEWS
A feature of the American Morris Newsletter dependent on your letters, postcards, and telephone calls. Names of correspondents appear at the end of each club's news. A list of known clubs and groups dancing morris or sword in North America is on page 5.

Berkeley Morris: "Here in California, the newest cult seems to be Berkeley Morris. Since last autumn, our club's size has doubled! We attribute this phenomenon in part to our leader Brad Foster's charismatic persona and in part to a fine three-day workshop... oops, workshop in Morris held last November with Fred Breunig and Tony Barrand. We explored the Ilmington, Adderbury, and Bampton traditions as well as Border Morris, Longsword, Rapper, Characters, and playing music for the morris. Two months earlier, Roy Doggett led a workshop in Hampton which was very inspiring, too. Friends will be relieved to hear that we have survived another harsh winter of 60 degree days and 50 degree nights! Spring Equinox found us with two new squires, a fool, and a hobby. After two years of anarchy, we chose to elect squires for each side. Jude Biggs is Squire for the women and Bruce Hamilton is the men's Squire. Brad Foster remains as Foreman and Fool. Much to her dismay, Mary O'Connell was re-elected as Bagman, also known as Bagwoman, Bagperson, Bagone, Baggie, and Bag (submittted by herself). Judy Jennings is our Hobby, a California Brown Bear. Although there was some sentiment that a proper California hobby should be a car, traditional sensibilities prevailed and a bear it is. "We will celebrate our second anniversary with lots of touring highlighted by an appearance in the San Francisco Ethnic Dance Festival on March 31 and our second annual tour of the Kiwanis Club dinner in Sonoma, Calif., home of one brewery and two wineries." (See Spring Calendar for other tour dates.)

Rita Hurault, 1270 4th Avenue, San Francisco, California.

Foggy Bottom Morris: Received too late for inclusion in the last Newsletter was an announcement of the addition of a women's side to the Foggy Bottom club. Last fall they danced in Charlottesville, Staunton, and Bluemont, Virginia, in addition to Glen Echo Park and Columbia, Maryland. This spring the club is planning its Second Annual Cherry Blossom Tour on April 7 with Bluemont Morris. They will dance "around the Washington Monument (our ersatz Maypole?) and through Georgetown, making an appearance at the George Washington University Creative Arts Festival along the way."

Officers of the club are: Laurie Andres, Squire; Roger Avery, Foreman; Nancy Taylor, Bagman; Al Kehs, Assistant Bagman. (See Spring Calendar for other tour dates.)

Nancy Taylor, 4120 North 34th Road, Arlington, Virginia 22207

Bloomington Morris is "looking forward to having our first men's morris side. The women's side danced out a couple of times last summer. We are now forming a rapper team with the help and instruction of Mark Rosenthal who moved here last year from Boston. Most of the people involved have never seen rapper performed, but we are coming along and hope to dance out this spring."

Frank Hall, P.O.Box 9, Bloomington, Indiana 47401.

Troy Morris may still be digging out from winter. The only news received was last January in response to a note reading "How goes it Down East?" It read, "Snowy -- 27 inches in 24 hours!"

Ken Kuenster, RFD 2, Lincolnville, Maine 04861.

Muddy River Morris has taken in "seven new members this year (5 dancers and 2 musicians) so that now we can easily put out two full sets. We have 18 people in all. We have been concentrating on Fieldtown, but have added quite a few Bucknell dances as well. Our Rapper team had an active winter of dancing in schools, private homes, and at dances. Helene Cornelius filled the gap left by Diane Grieg's departure to graduate school. The rapper team also added a mummers play this year -- a great success!" [See Spring Calendar for tour dates.]

Robin Rogers-Browne, 887 Bedford Road, Carlisle, Massachusetts 01741.

Ann Arbor Morris: "Since last July we have been changing and growing. We now have about 16 women and 10 men. Several people from other Morris teams have moved into town and have joined our ranks and we have added Bucknell to the traditions we dance. Some of the older dancers have also been learning Bledington. In January we elected Peggy Gerber as Squire and Carol Mohr as Bag. Debbie Low and John Cavanaugh continue as our Foremen."

Peggy Gerber, 808 East Ann Street #1, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104.

Minnesota Traditional Morris: "Though M'TM is accustomed to lying fallow between January and May beneath a considerable burden of snow and frigid weather, this year has proven different. An early recruiting effort found four more apprentices to supplement our now marginally seasoned performing side of six to eight regulars. For those regulars, an expansion of our standard Headington and Adderbury traditions took place and we added dances from Ilmington, Bledington, and Fieldtown.

"We also found ourselves with an unprecedented number of opportunities to dance this Spring. On March 10 we introduced a concert by Martin Carthy and on the 22nd we were the lunch hour feature of the Landmark Center in St. Paul. We will dance at the Minneapolis Folk Festival on April 6 and 7 and return to the Landmark Center on May Day. Also on May 1, we will have our customary May Day tour of the Nicollet Mall in Minneapolis (it is said that the flashing handkerchiefs of these 'madde men' precipitated a car-taxi collision in 1978). M'TM will represent British tradition in the St. Paul Festival of Nations on May 4-6 at the request of the Daughters of the British Empire, and finally, we will cap our Spring with our first out-of-state tour and join other clubs at the Marlboro Morris Ale."

Stephen Parker, 434 N.E. 4th Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55413.

Hearts of Oak Morris is "growing slowly, but steadily. Some old women have moved on, but a solid core is left to teach the increasing number of new dancers. We are concentrating on Badby and Bampton and, as a long term goal, are working on Sherborne with the aid of Sue Salmons from New York City. Our energy and spirits are high and we are currently setting up our spring and summer schedule. In preparation for May Day (actually Walpurgis Night), we are learning songs and appropriate speeches."

Hearts of Oak Morris, 3 Mill Street, Binghamton, New York 13903.

Pokingbrook Morris: "This looks like a good year for Pokingbrook. Although we lost several experienced dancers last fall, I am very optimistic that this spring we will have a strong men's side and women's side. We have had three intensive workshops, one by Roger Cartwright, one by John Dexter, and one by Jim Stevenson. Since we have had to recruit many new dancers, we are keeping ourselves mainly to Bampton and Adderbury dances this year."

Larry Sysdek, 110 Farnsworth Drive, Slingerlands, New York 12159.

Mississauga Morris Men: "We would like to announce the formation of the Mississauga Morris Men. We are closely associated with Green Fiddle Morris of Toronto and have ties with Leicester Morris Men and University of Sussex Morris Men in England."

Roger I.C. Hansell, 3307 Kings Masting Drive, Mississauga, Ontario, Canada.

Green Fiddle Morris: "Just before the team's second birthday, GM danced at its first team wedding. Carol Watson (our former fiddler) came home to Toronto bringing along fiancé, Paddy McCloy from England. The team helped celebrate the December wedding with several dances. In January, Phil Beaumont visited from England. Besides his valuable help and sound advice at practices, he led a superb full-day workshop on January 6. Also in January we lost our practice space when Fiddler's Green Folk Club had to move. We now practice at the University of Toronto, but in April we will be looking again. [See Spring Calendar for tour dates.]

Eileen Markwick, 834 Mt. Pleasant Road, Toronto, Ontario, MAP 2L3, Canada.

Bluemont Morris "is looking forward to travelling north to the Marlboro Ale. We are training new recruits and hope to have them in shape by spring. We will be touring with Foggy Bottom in Washington and hope to arrange something with Albemarle Morris Men in Charlottesville. Of course, we have our local tour planned for the Bluemont area 'small-holdings.' Our main tradition is Ilmington, but we are starting to learn Bampton."

Howard Bass, c/o Skyfields, Box 139 Route 1, Bluemont, Virginia 22012.

Marlboro Morris and Sword: "Our fifth touring season looks to be as busy as ever. In addition to our annual May Day in Marlboro and tours of Southern Vermont and New Hampshire, we will be travelling to Cambridge to dance with NewToweme and to the Albany area where the women's side will perform stave and ribbon dances from south of the Thames. Plans for the Ale are progressing. Clubs attending are Albemarle, Binghamton, Black Jokers, Bluemont, Foggy Bottom, Green Fiddle, Greenwich, Hearts of Oak, Kingsessing, Minnesota, Muddy River, NewToweme, Pinewoods, Ring o'Bells, and Southwood. Our second appearance in the Brattleboro 4th of July parade (dancing a Northwest clog morris processional) will be enhanced by the club's new iron-shod clogs which are arriving pair by pair in the mail from England." [See Spring Schedule for tour dates.]

Fred Breunig, R.D. 1 Box 9A, Putney, Vermont 05346.

Westerly Morris Men sent reports of their annual Twelfth Night festivities with various other groups in Westerly: Community Chorus, Rhode Island Philharmonic Brass Ensemble, Westerly Country Dancers, et al. The newspaper report claims that "these stalwarts can metabolize a six pack into the finest male dancing since Nijinsky!" [The editor wonders if they may have been upstaged by a version of the Twelve Days of Christmas featuring a live partridge and three French "hens" -- "Parisian ladies of the evening."]

George Utter, c/o the Westerly Sun, Westerly, Rhode Island 02891.

Herdon (Va.) Elementary School Sword Team: "The boys' rapper team appeared on television in October -- what a challenge! We had been granted 4 minutes and had to slice it to three. That was my 1978 team and by that time of year they were really used to show-biz; so they rehearsed like mad and by judicious speed-up techniques we 'dood it!' They and the longsword team also performed twice at the International Children's Festival at Wolf Trap and also have just been the guest artists at the Springfield Cub Scout Banquet. The 1979 teams are rehearsing and should ultimately be great!"

Barbara Harding, Box 236, Herndon, Virginia 22070.
An Orono Morris team: Roger Cartwright reports the beginnings of a new team in his current residence of Orono, Maine. About nine men have been dancing together since January in a "quiet and good way, like Maine." They are dancing the Fieldtown tradition only and may go out a little later in the Spring. "I think it's going to stick, the men care a lot about learning to dance."

Roger Cartwright, 42 Oak Street, Orono, Maine 04473.

WARM UP BEFORE DANCING!

We have several bad knees and ankles on the Marlboro club and have become more aware of the advisability of warming up before practice or performance. Roy Dommett wrote to me in a letter, "Since I was at Marlboro, I have concentrated much more on basics, in particular emphasizing warming up exercises. Those clubs who have adopted a proper system of movements from a professional coach or a physiotherapist find that they end practices enlivened, not prostrate. There seems to be some element of natural restraint without warming up and the tenseness is self-defeating."

Below is a series of exercises which a physical education teacher supplied for Morris Matters, a magazine published by Windsor Morris in England. They added, "Choose which ones suit you and work up to doing them ten times each. Running on the spot and 'knees up Mother Brown' will also get you warmed up."

—Fred Breunig

Sit with legs straight out.
Stretch foot up and down: ten times each foot.

Stretch each ankle alternately (toes on ground). Ten times each leg.

Sit with legs out and bend each knee up alternately. 10 times.

Touch toes with legs straight ten times.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reading through the Newsletter, I find references to "Squire," "Bagman," etc. While these are pretty obvious roles for a morris team, I have never heard anything about them: history, duties, relative importance. Is there anything interesting to know about these roles/titles?

Allison Thompson
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Editor's note: I put this question to Roy Dommett who wrote the following response:

Squire is the traditional term for a side's fool. The leader is usually known as Master, Captain, or Foreman, although foreman is usually reserved for the teacher. It is sort of inverted humour. The Cambridge Morris Men when they started in 1923-24 invented the terms Squire and Bagman for club officials and everyone sort of followed. The traditional name is Bagman, as equally important is carrying the coats. The traditional sides Bampton and Abingdon have used the terms President, Secretary, and Treasurer.
Letters, cont'd

Geoff Hughes is going to be teaching at the Pinewoods English Week (July 21-28) and Family Week (August 5-12), but will be free the week between. I am trying to get him some dates: he would enjoy having the chance to get around a bit and I think that people would be interested in what he has to offer.

He has danced Cotswold Morris for twenty years, but his main interest is Lancashire (clog) Morris. He is the conductor of the Rumworth Morris which he was instrumental in founding. He also is an expert in rapper sword and solo clog (he says his style is rather like Peter Brown's). He is also an established caller and M.C.

I imagine he would be happy to go anywhere in the eastern part of the country for his expenses, hospitality, and a small fee. In any case, those are the details and inquiries should be addressed to me.

Morris Matters, the quarterly magazine produced by Windsor Morris, is now available on subscription for $3.00 per year. If any North American readers would like to subscribe, please send an International Money Order for this amount along with your name and address to: Windsor Morris, 24 Alexandra Road, Windsor, Berkshire, England. If anyone wants it sent airmail, please send $6.00 as it is not a very light magazine!

Help Wanted: Morris Dancers

Houston, Texas: A women's team is hoping to form in Houston (there is a men's team there), but they are lacking numbers. "We are interested in discovering what a women's tradition might be. Unfortunately, our only teachers here are the Men of Houston."

Dorcas Hand, 6102 Winsome #74, Houston, Texas 77027.

Burlington, Vermont: A morris team existed for a while in this northern New England city, but has lost several key members and is not functioning right now. "There are still some very interested people who would like to get team practices back on a regular schedule. We did dance out a few times last year and really enjoyed it."

Hannah Roberts, 539 St. Paul St., Burlington, Vermont 05401.

Albuquerque, N.M.: "There is no morris dancing of any kind within 500 miles of Albuquerque!" Bill Litchman may not be trying to get anyone dancing, but "I finally got to see some American morris at Brea, Ky., last Christmas. A few years ago, I danced with the Earls of Essex in London."

Bill Litchman, 1620 Los Alamos, SW, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87104.

Announcement

Due to the success of our first Toronto Morris Ale last September, we are planning a second Ale this summer. The dates have been set for August 24-27. We hope the earlier date will enable more U.S. teams to come this year. Although we are still in the planning stage, it will be similar to last year's format. As yet, the cost for the weekend has not been completely worked out, but it will probably be about $15 per person. This will include accommodation, all meals, and bus transportation on tours. Because of accommodation problems, we do have to restrict the number of people attending. We would like to hear from any interested teams by May 10 at the latest. More detailed
Just after the January Newsletter went to press, UPI carried the following: "DOES BEER CAUSE CANCER? Heidelberg, West Germany — A West German magazine said today that beer may cause cancer and a newspaper said the report was 'enough to disturb the sleep' of the entire nation. The West German publication Der Stern reported a study showed that some beers contain a substance called nitrosamine which is said can cause cancer. German brewers, who yearly produce 2.4 billion gallons of beer, did not deny that nitrosamine is present in some beers. The brewers federation said that traces of the substance have been found in foreign beers, too. The federation said that the nitrosamine gets in the beer not in the brewing process itself, but during the production of the malt used in beer.'"

Unsettling news to contemplate just before a heavy spring touring schedule!

MORRIS DANCING IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

In New York in November, 1937, a Morris party for men only was held at Columbia University Faculty Club. It was arranged by Leonard Elsmith and Dexter Hinckley. Forty-two men attended it, and beer was served!

In Washington, D.C., in 1938, Gene Gowing held a Morris evening for men. Twenty-two turned up including two Senators.

(items found in the files of the Country Dance and Song Society; contributed by Genny Shimer.)

IN A MORE SERIOUS VEIN

The newsletter notes with sadness the passing of May Gadd and Louise Chapin. May Gadd, or "Gay" as she was most often called, came to the U.S. "for one year" in 1927 (her words). She stayed on, of course, to direct the Country Dance and Song Society from its New York headquarters until the early 1970's and was a great leader, teacher, and dancer. Louise Chapin was Gay's counterpart in Boston as teacher and leader for many years. Both had worked with Cecil Sharp before moving to the States and, among other things, nurtured the morris dance movement in the New World through its early years. They led full and inspiring lives, but we will miss them greatly!

The special tribute to Karl Rodgers by several of the former Village Morris Men was not ready for publication in this issue. It will appear in July.
