A feature of the American Morris Newsletter dependent on your letters, postcards, and telephone calls. Names of correspondents appear at the end of each club's news. A list of known clubs and groups dancing morris or sword in North America is on page 6.

Ann Arbor Morris and Sword: "At last Ann Arbor Morris and Sword actually has a sword dance as part of its show! This winter six of us worked up the Ampleforth sword dance under the guidance of John Cavanaugh. We had our first performance on February 17 and hope to have more. Our fall and winter was spent learning Border and Lancashire Morris. We performed examples of these along with our mummers play for our second annual Christmas tour and a February tour. "We are now back practicing Cotswold morris concentrating on Bucknell, Bampton, and Adderbury. Our new people are learning Headington to keep our first tradition healthy. Our size has remained stable (about 25, fewer men than women); we have some recently recruited International folk dancers to replace some old dancers who have left. New officers are Greg Ross, squire; Peggy Gerber, bag; Carol Mohr and John Cavanaugh, foremen. If anyone out there comes to Michigan, give us a call."
Peggy Gerber, 2219 Page Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104.

Berkeley Morris: "Our Berkeley team has begun regular practice after a long vacation through the fall. We have a lot of new dancers (for the first time in our three years there are more new dancers than old)! The growth is encouraging and it's satisfying to know that the team will go on even as older dancers move on."
Rita Hurault, 1270 4th Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94122.

Bouwerie Boys: "This past fall, four Binghamton men moved to New York and it seemed natural to continue dancing together. So Jim Stevenson joined us, four green recruits came along and we call ourselves the Bouwerie Boys (having gained some sense of reason and abandoned the Rigor Morris ... a fine opportunity slips by!). We are dancing Sherborne and some nice things are beginning to happen. We meet on Mondays at 7 p.m. at McSorleys."
John Dexter, 250 Elizabeth Street, New York, New York 10012.

Fiddler's Reach Morris "and friends participated in three performances of a Christmas Revels program in Brunswick, sharing the bill with an early music consort and a young people's acting group. Our contributions included some Border morris, the Haxby sword dance, and a recently discovered mummers play from the village of Topsham-on-Androscoggin. The reception we received was gratifying. Building on this, we went out on our own and held our first Fiddler's Reach Twelfth Night Celebration in Portland. In addition to the above, we included Molly dancing, a bean king and queen, carols, and English country dancing. Everything went very smoothly except for the problem of an uninvited fiery dragon which kept trying to get in on the act."
"After a short rest, we began again on Cotswold morris. We have a solid core of experienced dancers plus many enthusiastic newcomers. Our touring schedule will begin with our traditional tour of the Bath-Brunswick area on May 3. Our primary tradition remains Bledington, followed by Headington, with some Adderbury and Bampton as well. Officers for the year will be Robb Spivey, squire and Lisa Sherman holding the bag. Paul Krakauske continues to do a fine job teaching. We hope to hear from any morris dancers passing through the area."

Robb Spivey, 9 Wilson Street, Topsham, Maine

Forest City Morris "has recently passed another milestone: after lengthy and intense discussion, we decided we would begin to dance in the main with separate men's and women's sides. Views were freely shared and we finally concluded that a move such as this would allow us to progress more rapidly and to begin to cover new ground. Coupled with this decision, we agreed to restrict our repertoire somewhat. The men will dance Bledington and Fieldtown while the women will concentrate on Brackley and Headington. Together we will dance Bampton, the tradition with which we all began. We feel this represents an exciting combination and we look forward to the coming months with fresh enthusiasm and excitement."

Greenwich Morris Men "are alive and well. We danced some morris and the Abbots Bromley Horn dance in the New York Christmas Revels as well as an abbreviated Ampleforth sword dance that really seemed to be the dramatic high point of the show. It was most thrilling and very satisfying to dance. We are practicing on Mondays at 8 p.m. on the 7th floor at 736 Broadway in preparation for spring tours if any travelling morris dancers are in town and wish to stop in."

David Arnold, Quarters 206D, Governors Island, New York 10004.

Ha'penny Morris "began the spring season dancing at a St. Patrick's Day hootenanny in a Baptist Church! When the wintry winter climbs up a few more degrees, we will tour Cambridge and Boston and possibly Concord, where two of our members live. Plans are also brewing for special dancing at the wedding of a Ha'penny dancer and a Black Joker!"

Jackie Chew, 19 Central Road 1, Somerville, Massachusetts 02143.

Kingsessing Morris Men "have been incorporating new members into the ranks and are expecting to have a busy spring."

Don Potter, 112 Clearview Drive, Downingtown, Pennsylvania 19335.

Lexington Morris Men: "had their first practice on January 12 and showed great promise for a wonderful touring season this spring. A full complement of members showed up including two musicians, eleven dancers, and two brothers aged 10 and 12. All enjoyed working hard on Longborough. For any morris men who are passing through, please call on us!"

Don Campbell, 332 Duke Road 2, Lexington, Kentucky 40502.

Marlboro Morris and Sword: "Touring in Spring 1980 will bear close resemblance to previous year's schedules as we work to have the morris become an expected part of Windham County's spring. Our fifth Morris Ale will bring several newcomers to Marlboro as well as some 'old-timers': Albermarle, Binghamton, Court Square, Greenwich, Ha'Penny, Kingsessing, Lord Hill, Minnesota, Muddy River, New Towne, Pine Woods, Ring o' Bells, Spruce Hill, and Westerly."

Fred Breunig, R.D. 1 Box 9A, Putney, Vermont 05346.
Minnesota Traditional Morris: "January saw the addition of two new apprentices to MTM. This will keep us in a steady state since two of our present members will be fading into the world of distant and steady work in April and May. Our current work involves the addition of several Headington and Adderbury dances to our standard repertoire. We are especially interested in a number of Adderbury dances, some with song throughout, which are rarely performed 'Americaside.' Among them are the Happy Man, the Postman’s knock, Sweet Jenny Jones, and the Princess Royal. We have also taken Trunkles and Laudnum Bunches out of the mothballs. We look forward to a fine year of touring folk and Renaissance festivals as well as in our local communities (see tour schedule on page 7). Great gullies to all!"

Stephen Parker, 424 N.E. 4th Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55413.

Muddy River Morris: "Last fall we chose new officers (many of them since we like to spread the work around): Squire Barbara Morrison, Foreman Robin Rogers-Browne, Music Foreman Cathy Mason, Bagman Kathi Tigbe, Scribe Susie Stix, Practice Runner Ginny Briggs. We also welcomed a new junior member, Lillian Kruskal, with whom we are all delighted." (See tour schedule for dates of spring courses).

Barbara Morrison, 1 Gates Street, Worcester, Massachusetts 01610.

New Haven Morris and Sword: "No one was more surprised than the team itself when our first show (at Northwestern Connecticut Community College) was a big success. Last fall, after losing three of six backbone dancers, prospects for holding the line were dim. We set up a class for 24 beginners in the fall which gave various members of the team a chance to dance twice a week and teach. The tapper team fell together in the nick of time. We invite other teams to join us for touring (see schedule for dates)."

David Lindsay, 95 Mansfield Street, New Haven, Connecticut 06511.

Pokingbrook Morris "started its fall practice in Chatham, but after a few months moved to Albany where we have been going strong. This season we have been working hard on Bledington and enjoying the feel of dances coming alive with the promise of spring. We have set ourselves a busy touring schedule (see page 7) with the greatest amount of touring this team has ever attempted. This is the result of the strong support we have found from the challenges of this season’s practices. He assured well that the morris lives in Albany. ‘We are happy to announce two team weddings: Mishka Luft and Bob Weissburg and Mark and Ann VanWormer; also Bill and Marie Newman’s beautiful girl named Elisea.’"

Larry Syzdek, 114 Winthrop Avenue, Albany, New York 12203.

Rock Creek Morris: Readers of the last issue of the Newsletter heard of the creation of the Foggy Bottom Morris Men. "The former Foggy Bottom women announce the formation of the Rock Creek Morris team, Washington’s first official, independent women’s morris club. In addition to former Foggy Bottom dancers, Rock Creek includes many new faces to the D.C. morris scene, bringing our total membership to 16 (as of January). Plans for the coming season include our debut tour in honor of the Vernal Equinox, an early April tour to assure the timely blooming of the cherry blossoms, an Easter parade with St. Mark’s Church, and a tentative May festival to which we hope to invite other Mid-Atlantic morris clubs."

Mary Chor, 3217 McKinley Street, Washington, D.C. 20008.

The editor wishes to thank publicly the Smith family of Putney, Vermont for its invaluable assistance in getting the Newsletter in the mails each quarter. John, Maggie, Karin, Monica, Russell, Sam, and Ben all contribute to the effort by collating, folding, stapling, licking, stamping, etc. What a great crew!
As morris parodies of established tunes seem to be gaining in popularity, the Minnesota Traditional Morris submits its entry to the Newsletter. It was cooked up at the Marlboro Morris Ale last May 1979 by our fellows and former squire John Cavanaugh, now of the Ann Arbor Morris and Sword team.

"All for the Morris"
(to the tune of "All for me Grog")

(Chorus) It's all for the Morris, the noggin', noggin' Morris,
All for me gallies and me capers,
Oh, the boys they look so swell in their handkerchiefs and bells,
And it's off to Poncho's Wreck (or insert your favorite pub) that we must wander

Where are me bells, me noggin', noggin' bells,
All gone for beer and tobacco,
Well, the ribbons they are worn and the bells they are half gone,
And me bells are lookin' out for better weather.

(Chorus)

Where are me sticks, me noggin', noggin' sticks,
All gone for beer and tobacco,
Well, I broke them all in two a-dancing Constant Billy with you,
And me sticks are lookin' out for better weather.

(Chorus)

Where are me hankies, me noggin', noggin' hankies,
All gone for beer and tobacco,
Well, I lost them in a hey in the 29th of May,
And me hankies are lookin' out for better weather.

(Chorus)

Where are me knuckles, me noggin', noggin' knuckles,
All gone for beer and tobacco,
Well, a-sticking I did try 'til the Squire called "bats high."
And now I'd rather dance the Weeping Willow.

(Chorus)

Where are me whites, me noggin', noggin' whites,
All gone for beer and tobacco,
Well the shirt is stained with beer and the pants have lost their rear,
And me arse is lookin' out for better weather.

(Chorus)

Where are me shoes, me noggin', noggin' shoes,
All gone for beer and tobacco,
Well, the soles they got all stony while I was dancing Swaggering Boney,
Now me soles are lookin' out for better leather. (1)

(Chorus)

(to be sung by the Bagman)

Where is the bag, the noggin', noggin' bag,
All gone ... (he looks about anxiously)
Well, I thought I had it here when I went to get the beer,
Now the bag is lookin' out for better tether. (2)
1. This verse was contributed by John Roberts on a tour of Madison and Minneapolis last fall.

2. This verse came from friends among the morris dancers in Madison, Wisconsin. It was received just after one episode in the long saga of our bumbling bagman (Stephen Parker) who thought he had forgotten the swords for our first sword dance performance when in fact they were in the trunk of his car. As the lads improvised a handkerchief dance, the fool rushed about in the bagman’s auto, singlehandedly put out a fire, ran over a dog, and was nearly destroyed by a freight train before discovering the swords in the trunk. Madison, of course, knew nothing of this; so we felt obliged by auspicious coincidence to keep it with the song.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Toronto Morris Ale: Green Fiddle Morris will be holding its Third Toronto Morris Ale in August 1980. At this time we cannot announce a definite date, but it will be held either August 8 - 11 OR August 1 - 4. Again accommodation and all meals will be included in the weekend fee. Because of our position in the "far north," we know it may be difficult for many teams to travel up here. Individuals who can make it on their own are most welcome. Teams or individuals who are interested in attending should contact (by the end of May) the Green Fiddle bag: Eileen Marwick, 834 Mt. Pleasant Road, Toronto, Ontario M4P 2L3. Telephone: 416-498-8129.

Mariposa Folk Festival is not happening this year as it has been in previous years. The Toronto festival originally planned for the usual Mariposa weekend has been changed to late July.

New Haven Morris and Sword is planning a tour for April 15 to be followed by a workshop at 3 p.m. with the Coal Country Cloggers of Pittsburg, Pa. There will be a potluck dinner and a "Come-all-yell contra dance at Hendrie Hall for the benefit of Pinewoods Camp. The dance will include team demonstrations. If you are interested in having the Cloggers in your community, call Marlin Whitaker at 412-621-7586.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Speaking as a former New Zealand morris dancer, I know that the New Zealand morris teams would be interested in the American morris scene if you would like to contact them. We feel that certain references made about morris in New Zealand by Jim Haddon of Australia have been unfairly inaccurate (reference recent American Morris Newsletter).

Chris Brady, ex-City of Auckland Morris
Sussex, England

In the article "Women’s Morris Goes to England" (Vol. III, no. 4), it says in the second paragraph, "... women’s morris, which began six years ago..."

I would like to point out that women’s morris is considerably older. I danced in a women’s morris team in London in Cecil Sharp House in the early 1950s. I was asked to take the place of a dancer who was unable to attend their demonstration and I had to borrow a uniform: pink pinafore dress and white blouse. After our display, many men voiced their surprise that women could, would, and were allowed to dance the morris. Times haven't changed very much!

RW PASSES ON

The Newsletter was very much saddened to hear of the death of Russell Wortley, long-time morris man in England. Dr. Wortley had been active in the Morris Revival in England since the earliest days of the Cambridge Morris Men and the Travelling Morrice as a dancer, musician, scholar, and collector. Readers of this Newsletter have seen his articles several times over the last several years, his most recent being a letter to the editor in October. We will miss Russell greatly.
